This part of the route is generally uphill, with some flat and slight downhill sections. None of the inclines are severe.

At the top of the escarpment you reach a road (Salt Way), turn left along the road for approx 50m, (cars tend to be driving quickly) before turning right along the Wardens' Way. After approx 400m you reach a junction of paths near Deadmanbury Gate. 3 Here leave the Wardens' Way and turn right along a bridleway. After Waterhatch, the track continues slightly downhill before the track bends sharply to the right, it then rises gently for approx 300m. At this point, the Windrush Way continuing ahead across a field, but the route turns left, continue to follow the track. After 750m you reach Newmeadow Farm, continue along the Old Brockhampton Road (the road is a dead-end, so there is generally very little traffic).

In a little over 1 kilometre the road reaches a track on the right. 5 (At this point, if you are returning to Sudeley Castle car park, take this track, cross a bridge and rejoin the Windrush Way before turning left through a field gate into Sudeley Home Park. Follow the path towards the castle, go through a gate and, keep the adventure playground fence on your right, continue to the field gate by a driveway. 1 Turn right and re-enter the Sudeley Castle car park.)
